Save-On-Foods celebrates grand opening of store at Coquitlam's Austin Station

(September 16, 2016 – Coquitlam, B.C.) Save-On-Foods officially opened the doors of its newest location as the anchor tenant in Coquitlam's Austin Station shopping plaza this morning.

Save-On-Foods took possession of the vacant store, located at 2662 Austin Avenue, on May 25 and immediately began renovations to bring it up to Save-On-Foods standards.

The store officially opened Friday, September 16 at 8 a.m. with thousands of items on sale.

Grand opening celebrations take place all day Saturday, September 17, including Spin the Wheel for great prizes, performances by local musicians and entertainers, and a free six-inch cake giveaway to the first 500 customers. Plus, one customer a day for two weeks will win their grocery purchase.

"We're so excited to be able to open up the doors to this store in Austin Station," said Save-On-Foods president Darrell Jones. "The fantastic people of Coquitlam are passionate about their neighbourhood grocery store, and we have 125 team members who can't wait to meet them and go the extra mile for them."
